

```
System.out.println(
    "hi, info!" +
    "i'm bright");
```

about me

I am second-year Informatics student with an interest in Web Dev and UX research.

In my free time, I love playing volleyball and Wizard101!

director of outreach candidate

Through this role, I aspire to actively communicate with the community members of the iSchool to gauge a better understanding of student wants and struggles, specific to their unique learning styles and backgrounds.

I will use that information to advocate for students and enhance student experience both in the classroom and social settings. This might include advocating for more UI/UX design elective courses and planning career-building events.

contact me

in/bright

bright@uw.edu

iuga